Solutions for Security and Access Control

About Us

Security is a major concern, and with recent advances in technology, it is now more affordable than ever. Entry-Master (EMS) specilizes in the development and manufacturing of reliable access control security systems. Whether the requirement is for two secured doors or an integrated system for hundreds of doors, multiple sites and thousands of employees, EMS has a cutting-edge solution.

The Entry-Master ® suite of products incorporate state-of-the-art technology that has satisfied some of the most demanding security needs of educational, medical and banking institutions, high-profile corporations, law enforcement and government facilities.

Our experience in the access control and security industry spans three decades, and our engineers all have extensive field experience. EMS continually strives to provide excellent customer support.
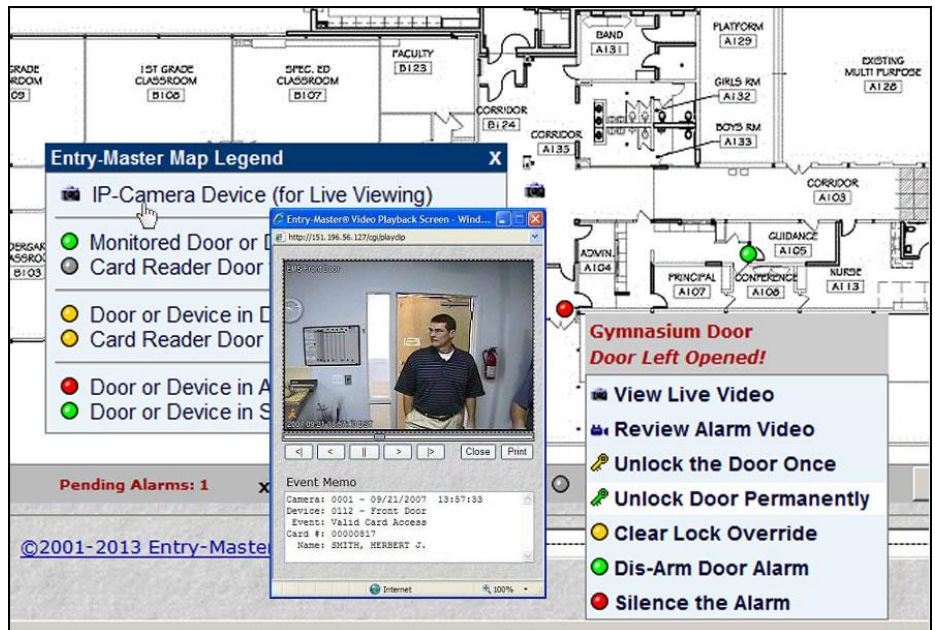

Security Solutions for the 21st Century

Products

Entry-Master products are compatible with most industry standard hardware – upgrading existing systems has never been easier. System setup, deployment and training time are typically a fraction of that required by other systems. All EMS products are based upon the same basic hardware components; thus every EMS solution is completely scalable.

System V Web-based Panel

System V is the EMS premier web-based product, designed for medium to enterprise-scale commercial system needs. Monitor all aspects of your security from any computer using a browser or a smart phone; monitor video and control multiple sites from interactive mapping displays. Options include biometric and photo-badging interface. System V is expandable, easily integrated and offers customizable reporting.

The Hosted Solution offers the same robust security of System V as a "cloud-based" option. Now smaller organizations can have the same powerful features without all the hardware demands and costs on-site. Most updates and services can be completed remotely by EMS technicians.
